

SUMMER TEACHER DEVELOPMENT COURSES 2011

Our Teacher Development courses are specially designed to develop the skills of non-native speaker teachers of English in secondary and adult contexts. These are exciting and innovative courses which will enable you to work in different teaching situations all over the world.

BETTER TEACHING OUTCOMES

On this course we will help you get more out of your teaching by exploring:

- how to teach grammar and vocabulary in an efficient, student-centred way
- what is important when delivering reading lessons
- how to ensure your students improve their listening skills
- effective methods for developing your students' speaking skills
- a variety of approaches to correction
- ways of integrating technology into the classroom
- the implications of the Common European Framework

In addition to 30 taught hours, you will have the opportunity to observe the university's own EFL teachers in action.

This course also includes two afternoon cultural trips / events.

| | | | |
|-------------------------|-------------------|-----------|------|
| 11 July – 22 July 2011 | 9.00am -- 12.15pm | Two weeks | £490 |
| 25 July – 5 August 2011 | 9.00am -- 12.15pm | Two weeks | £490 |

CONTEMPORARY BRITISH LANGUAGE AND CULTURE

This course focuses on a wide range of aspects of modern British culture and language, and analysing their relevance in the English language classroom.

We will be exploring:

- topics of current cultural interest – including current social trends, aspects of popular culture, art, literature and cinema
- a range of recently-coined English words and expressions
- the relationship between language and culture
- ways of keeping your own English up-to-date

This course also includes two afternoon cultural trips / events.

| | | | |
|---------------------------|-------------------|-----------|------|
| 8 August – 19 August 2011 | 9.00am -- 12.15pm | Two weeks | £490 |
|---------------------------|-------------------|-----------|------|

ACCOMMODATION

The University offers a range of cost-effective accommodation options during the summer. These include staying in one of our University Halls of Residence in Central London. Information is available at westminster.ac.uk/business/summer-accommodation

Alternatively, you can live with a homestay family.

For further information and advice, visit

westminster.ac.uk/studentaccommodation

HOW TO APPLY

To apply for any of these courses, complete the attached application form or you can apply online at westminster.ac.uk/efl

For more information on these and all our courses, contact:

Email: efl@westminster.ac.uk

Phone: +44 (0)20 7915 5401

Contact: EFL courses, University of Westminster, 32 – 38 Wells Street, London
W1T 3UW